“The Photobook” Exhibition

Photobook Relay Talks / Talk Session / Lecture /
Collotype print / Kids Program

Centering on “The Photobook” exhibition, a series of related programs will be held with the aim of providing a comprehensive learning experience regarding the history of Japanese photography. In addition to talk programs and lectures that discuss the attitudes and movements in fine art photography from the 1960s until the latest contemporary scene, workshops will be hosted to further communicate the appeal of photography by enabling participants to actively engage in the photography making process.

“The Photobook” Exhibition

The exhibition is a new attempt to comprehensively introduce the history of Japanese photobooks and the unique changes it has experienced since the war through keywords such as media, design, printing techniques, and publishers. Inviting Ryuichi Kaneko as a guest curator and including works from his collection, the exhibition serves to introduce the appeal of Japanese photobooks from a diverse and multilateral approach.

Dates: September 30 (Fri) – October 2 (Sun)

Place: Hillside Plaza

Admission: Free (daikanyama photo fair ticket required)

Ryuichi Kaneko (Historian, Photobook Collector)

Ryuichi Kaneko (b.1948, Tokyo) completed his BA in Geography at Risho University. He became interested in photobooks in 1960's and positioned collection of photobooks as his own mission in 1970's. He sought the way to make a connection with “Photography” through collection of photobooks rather than photographing. In 1980's he began research on history of photography in earnest based on the relevant photography material. He has authored and contributed to numerous publications including Masterpieces of Japanese Photography (Kokusho Kankokai, 2005-2007), Japanese Photobooks of the 1960s and '70s (Akaaka Art Publishing, 2009). He used to be a curator at Tokyo Photographic Museum, and is currently a lecturer at Musashino Art University.
